Honor Your Loved Ones with a Poetic Garden Bench

This wooden bench is beaten with a motorcycle chain just for the hell of it. Designed by artist Noam Bryzinski, each bench is engraved with a bilious poem.

Choose from Three Verses ...

Step-Grandpa

*It's no secret I hated your guts for a while.
I was so protective of Nonni,
but you really lit a fire under her ass.
I didn't think old people should get married again,
but your love proved me wrong.*

Cousin

*You are my dad's sister's daughter
But I think you are so freaking h-t
Do U want 2 get coffee?*

Little Uncle

*You are still a baby,
But you are my uncle.
I guess that's what happens when Grandmas
get pregnant.
I love you, Little Uncle.*

This Sarcastic Sun Face Will Keep Shining Through Your Crumbling Marriage

You and Ron weren't really very compatible, and now that the kids have left, things seem especially hollow—but check out this purse-lipped sun-face sculpture! Divert you and your guests' attention from your impending divorce. The verdigris, corrosion-proof plaque has a look that is both wistful and disappointed.
